

Sidewalk Problems on Wolf South of Golf

This is a minor issue, probably one which could be readily fixed. Wolf Rd. is a busy artery on which most people on bikes would choose to use the sidepath along the east side (there's no continuous sidepath on the west). But approaching the Golf & Wolf intersection from the south, here's what you get: steps.

Wouldn't it somehow be possible to build a ramp alongside?

Here's the situation just past the above slide (across Columbia): more steps and a curb.

... and again just north of above slide, here looking south with Wolf Rd to the right. This is not just a problem for bikes but for someone pushing a stroller or shopping cart.
